

Purple Voodoo Productions is devoted to providing the absolute best in musical entertainment for your event. We work with you to determine the best fit between our entertainment and your desired outcomes. Our roster of professional artists/musicians has been assembled through a rigorous screening process, and our associates are fully trained, professional musicians.

Purple Voodoo Productions provides music for any event, venue, or celebration as required. We have a vast network of professional musicians, ranging from pop/rock cover bands to acoustic duos, well known featured acts, specialty 'theme' bands and impersonators, jazz trios to piano playing vocalists, disc jockeys to karaoke hosts. Purple Voodoo can also be hired to create original music for personal or professional projects, utilizing skilled songwriters, recording engineers, musicians, and creative strategists. Additional services include photographers, videographers for on-site or follow up applications, and sports celebrity meet and greet options. By working with carefully selected affiliates, we can provide a single point of contact for your entire event.

Catherine Harrison, founder and principal, developed her strategic business acumen with more than 20 years of sales and leadership experience in the pharmaceutical industry. She has been a guest lecturer on the topic of leadership at O.I.S.E., University of Toronto, and is an accredited professional facilitator. Catherine is a songwriter, musician and performer, and has produced two CDs of original music, as well as contributed vocals and guitar on numerous other artists' projects. Catherine has worked on both sides of the corporate event, giving her a unique perspective and greater client understanding and value.

Purple Voodoo Productions has been creating, hosting, staffing and promoting music for events since 2001.

Purple Voodoo Productions is a branch of Purple Voodoo, a Canadian consulting company, based in the Toronto area.

Founded in 2001, Purple Voodoo Productions began with the creation of the successful Toronto concert series, "For the Love of Buckley: Jeff Buckley Tribute". Catherine Harrison co-produced, promoted and hosted the series from 2001-2009 in various venues in Toronto. Local and international musicians donated their time and talent to help celebrate the life and work of the late Jeff Buckley, raising more than $10,000. All of the proceeds benefited our two selected charities, the Regent Park School of Music (Toronto) and Road Recovery (based in New York, NY).

"As the owner of Fun Palace Entertainment, a New York City-based music business consulting company associated with Jeff Buckley Music, I have worked with Catherine Harrison/Purple Voodoo Productions for a number of years in connection with her organization and presentation of tribute concerts in the memory of the late artist Jeff Buckley. These successful events, based in Toronto, have been a result of Ms. Harrison's tremendous abilities to be a strong communicator, highly detail-oriented, skilled at promotion and outreach, and an interest for philanthropic endeavors. One beneficiary of the proceeds from ticket sales at these events is a non-profit I co-founded in 1998 called Road Recovery. Because of our trust in Ms. Harrison, we reached out to her to represent our organization at a major charity concert in Canada in 2012, presented by the rock band Three Days Grace. Ms. Harrison worked closely with the artists and their representatives during the planning phases up to the concert, and she represented us from the big stage, through media, and helped spread awareness to thousands of concert goers. This event generated several thousands of dollars in donated funds to support our services helping young people battle addiction and other adversities. I highly recommend Ms. Harrison for her consulting leadership and creative planning services and thank her for her many years of working with my organization."
